

Marine Structure Emergency Repair

In the case of potentially hazardous circumstances—a detached platform or walkway, broken hinge, flipped boat lift, etc.—the Property Owner is allowed to take emergency action to secure the structure in order to prevent additional property damage, safety hazards, or threats to water quality. The homeowner is required to notify SWS immediately after the threat is abated.

SWS recognizes that there are extenuating circumstances when an unanticipated event or catastrophic occurrence - such as fire, high wind, heavy precipitation, snow or ice events, theft, or vandalism—that destroys or alters a structure such that it requires replacement or repair. When these situations occur, SWS will prioritize these applications to remediate and address them on a case-by-case basis.
